

BIL Exhibition: “A Brilliant Darkness” by Pitt Brandenburger

From July 10 to early September 2014, Banque Internationale à Luxembourg’s Galerie L’Indépendance will be hosting Pitt Brandenburger’s “A Brilliant Darkness” exhibition.

Pitt Brandenburger is a Luxembourgish artist who is an ardent admirer of primary materials. Wood and metal take pride of place in his numerous designs, in which simplicity and symbolism combine to form works of beauty.

As a visual artist and sculptor, he bases his art upon his own personal values, giving his pieces an appeal going well beyond purely aesthetic considerations. As befits a great artist, emotion can be found in a detailed observation of his sculptures, an accessible emotion through which we come to understand the symbolic nature of his work.

Unique in his approach to designing and making his pieces, Brandenburger draws his inspirations from the foundations underlying all human existence, combining distant memories, mystical or even religious feelings with natural elements. It is in the balance between the material and immaterial that his sculptures come together, showing the contrast between light and darkness, the conflict between heaven and earth, life and death.

Constantly on the lookout for new ideas and surprises, he seeks to combine his art with his lifestyle. His sculptures stand out through his artistic vision and the materials used, which provide an explosion of sensations that the viewer is free to interpret through personal feelings.

It is an honour for Banque Internationale à Luxembourg (BIL) to host Pitt Brandenburger’s exhibition for this 25th anniversary of its L’Indépendance head office. His works will without a doubt enchant both amateurs and art lovers. This new exhibition goes hand in hand with BIL’s ongoing commitment to promoting local art and artists.
