

Charles Q. Li

Independent Director

Charles Q. Li has been a Member of the Board of Directors of Banque Internationale à Luxembourg S.A. since May 2021.

Mr Li is an eminent veteran international banker in China. He was Chief Executive Officer China at Australia & New Zealand Bank (ANZ) between 2011 and 2014, responsible for all ANZ businesses in China. Before joining ANZ, he spent 17 years with the Royal Bank of Scotland Group (RBS), holding a series of senior positions in London, Hong Kong, Beijing and Shanghai. Mr Li was instrumental in formulating and implementing RBS's strategy in China and building RBS's businesses from representative offices to a fully-fledged locally incorporated bank. When he left RBS in 2011, he was Country Executive China, responsible for all RBS's businesses in China.

Since 2014, Charles Q. Li has undertaken a portfolio of non-executive and advisory roles in commercial and non-profit organisations, including Independent Director and Chair of Remuneration Committee of the House of Fraser Group, Independent Director of IDT International (HKEX 167), Independent Director of the Great Britain China Centre, Senior Advisor at Fintech Circle Ltd and Member of the Birmingham Business School Advisory Board.

Charles Q. Li is a British national and holds a Bachelor's degree in Mechanical Engineering from the Beijing Institute of Technology, a MSc in Industrial Management from the University of Birmingham and a PhD in Strategic Management from Aston Business School. He is a Fellow of the Hong Kong Institute of Directors.
